

Subject: From Food Stamps to Financial Success

_____,

After listening to your podcast and falling in love with the message you bring to your audience, I felt really called to introduce myself. I believe I'd be a great fit as a guest on _____. Your show really speaks to my audience and I'd love to share the value you provide with my tribe.

I am the founder of In Arms Coaching. I'm a six figure business coach, and speaker who is deeply in service to women who are fully committed to building a business they LOVE, that is lucrative, joyful, AND leaves them time to do all the other things they love in their life.

I'm not your average business woman and I know your audience will find my story relatable and inspiring....

I took myself from a struggling single mother on food stamps, to a present work-at-home owner of a thriving small business. I truly feel my story will resonate with the women who listen to _____.

My belief is that when we share our experiences and relate to one another, we are stronger together. Your show is an example of that!

Once I grew In Arms Coaching to six figures I founded a non-profit dog rescue in Maine and still continue to lead my heart centered biz with ease, and more free time than many self-employed women I know enjoy. I believe all women should be able to follow their passions AND be prosperous while doing it- without sacrificing happiness, sanity, or sleep- and that's what I teach my clients to do.

Topics I'd love to expand with you on include:

- Guerilla marketing - how to not be a douche sales woman
- Be You Visibility - my signature formula for standing out as a business owner
- Sacred Structure - the way I teach women to structure their time as an entrepreneur to allow time freedom
- Creating tribe, community and genuine relationships
- Overcoming judgement, stereotypes and embracing your rebel self

- *How I built a business to success, started an effective, taking-off dog rescue, AND still have free time for myself and my family...and how you can create YOUR version
- *And a motivational talk:
- "From delinquent runaway to thriving entrepreneur...a tale of magic and empowerment"

I've been previously featured on Your Sacred Witness, The Big Movement Podcast, Word of Mom Radio, and The Gardenia Project. You can also see my featured articles & press here.

If you're open to collaboration and having me as a guest on _____, please shoot me an email at britt@inarmscoaching.com. I look forward to hearing from you!
